Investing in a Broadway Show? Are You Kidding?

Jed Bernstein

The returns can be high, but so can the losses. Broadway can be a fun and profitable investment, but it helps to know how the business is structured!

Jed Bernstein is a Tony Award winning producer, former CEO of Lincoln Center, and currently the Producing Director of Theatre Aspen. His 2011 presentation to The Group was a smash hit, so don't miss his long-awaited return!

Please join us for luncheon with Jed at the Unique Affair restaurant at the Pleasantville Country Club following the meeting

We are grateful to the Friends of the Mt. Pleasant Public Library for their co-sponsorship of our lecture series.

Thank you!
